ROBUST OUTLOOK AND RESILIENT EARNINGS SEEN IN 2023 FOR HEALTHCARE PLAYERS – KENANGA RESEARCH

According to Kenanga Research latest report, the healthcare sector can look forward to resilient earnings in 2023, particularly among players in the private hospitals, pharmaceuticals and over-the-counter (OTC) drugs as well as immunotherapy. Growth prospects for the sector in the long-term will continue to be underpinned by an ageing population, rising affluence and growing chronic diseases across the globe such as cardiovascular, cancer and respiratory.

The research house has an “overweight” call on the sector with its top picks, namely IHH Healthcare Bhd with a target price (TP) of RM7.20 and Kotra Industries Bhd with a TP of RM7. In the private hospitals sphere, IHH’s patient throughput growth and revenue intensity would drive 2023 earnings as demand for non-Covid related services including elective surgeries recovers.

In 2023, it expects IHH’s revenue per in-patient growth of 10% to 15% versus an estimated 10% to 20% in 2022, while in-patient throughput growth of 10% to 15% against an estimated 12% to 25% in 2022. The group's bed occupancy rate (Bor) is targeted at 60% to 73% in 2023 compared with an estimated 56% to 70% in 2022 for its hospitals in Malaysia, Singapore, India and Turkey. Kenanga Research also liked IHH for its pricing power adding that the inelastic demand for private healthcare service would allow the group to pass on the higher cost amid rising inflation and its presence in multiple markets such as Malaysia, Singapore, Turkey and Greater China.

Meanwhile, KPJ Healthcare Bhd's patient throughput is expected to grow at 12% from an estimated 26% in 2022 due to the low base effect in 2021. The research house noted that KPJ's Bor at 66% versus an estimated 55% in 2022 would be driven by recovery in demand for its services, particularly non-Covid-related ones including elective surgeries. It liked KPJ for its pricing power as a private healthcare provider and its strong market position locally with the largest network of 28 private hospitals.

As for health supplements and OTC drugs, the research house said the Statista Consumer Market Outlook projected the OTC pharmaceuticals market in Malaysia to grow at a compounded annual growth rate (CAGR) of 6% to an estimated RM3.2bil by 2027. This augurs well for Kotra that manufactures and sells OTC supplements and nutritional and pharmaceutical products with key flagship household brands such as Appeton, Axcel and Vaxcel. The research house likes Kotra for its integrated business model encompassing the entire spectrum of the pharmaceutical value chain.

Meanwhile, backed by a new plant, widening distribution network and penetration into local public hospitals, Nova Wellness Group Bhd is guided for a 15% to 18% volume growth, following an average volume growth rate of 16% to 8% from FY20 to FY22. On the other hand, Pharmaniaga Bhd's growth in 2023 will be "pedestrian" in the absence of lumpy vaccine sales. Kenanga Research expects its concession awarded by the Health Ministry to provide medical supplies to public hospitals to be renewed upon expiry in end-2022.

For the immunotherapy segment, Kenanga Research said earnings growth of Malaysia Genomics Research Centre Bhd (MGRC) would gather momentum in 2023. This would be driven by maiden contributions from Thailand and the Middle East as MGRC ramps up its distribution network and footprint overseas for its biopharmaceutical products. The research house likes MGRC for its exclusive rights to deliver such immunotherapy treatment in the region under a long-term licensing agreement with reputable principals. In addition, it is also the leading provider of genetic sequencing and analysis in South-East Asia.

REVISED BUDGET 2023 TO SEE RATIONALISATION IN OPEX, TARGETED SUBSIDIES – RHB IB

According to RHB Investment Bank Bhd (RHB IB) in a note entitled “Global Economics and Market Strategy”, it expects some rationalisation in the government operating expenditure (opex), while a more targeted approach towards subsidies may be implemented in the revised Budget 2023. This was in view of the still-elevated living costs and inflationary pressures where the pace of the adjustment is likely to be gradual. The investment bank also said the potential revision of the development expenditure allocation might be possible, especially for new and existing projects that have yet to start the tender process.

Any major changes to Budget 2023 might have a significant impact on RHB IB’s fiscal deficit projection, adding that it maintained its 2023 fiscal deficit projection at 5.5% of the gross domestic product (GDP) for the time being. Moving forward to 2023, it is cautiously optimistic about the country’s economic outlook and has maintained its 2023 GDP growth forecast of 4.5% year-on-year as it expects the growth to be supported by resilient domestic demand. It has also maintained its headline consumer price index inflation projection for 2023 at 3% y-o-y, driven by economic growth momentum, fuel subsidies outlook, and the movement of commodity prices.

RHB IB has retained its overnight policy rate forecast range at 3-3.5% for 2023, anchored by factors such as a robust domestic economy, resilient inflationary pressures, as well as a potential relaxation of fuel subsidies.

HYBRID MEETING - THE BEST OF BOTH WORLDS

Devanesan
Evanson

Chief Executive Officer, Minority
Shareholders Watch Group

Necessity is the mother of innovation. The Covid-19 pandemic has accelerated the adoption of technology and the acceptance of virtual meetings. As we may recall, Ranhill Utilities Berhad was among the earliest public-listed companies (PLCs), if not the first on Bursa Malaysia, to conduct a virtual AGM after the imposition of Movement Control Order in March 2020. In a statement, the group president and chief executive Tan Sri Hamdan Mohamad said the virtual meeting attracted more shareholders that year than in the two previous years.

For the first ten months this year, MSWG representatives attended a total of 292 AGMs. Slightly more than three quarters (76.0%) of the AGMs were conducted virtually, while close to a quarter (23.3%) of the AGMs, mainly of smaller PLCs, were conducted in the conventional mode with the physical presence of shareholders.

As we moved into the endemic stage of Covid-19 pandemic, there were PLCs that chose to conduct hybrid general meetings. However, there were only a handful of PLCs (0.7%), which convened the AGMs in hybrid mode during this period. There are good things about a physical AGM that cannot be replicated in a virtual AGM. For most of the minority shareholders, the annual event is probably the only occasion where they can mingle with the Board of Directors and the management before and after the AGMs, and during vote counting. It is also an opportunity for camaraderie amongst shareholders. A physical meeting provides better engagement as it allows better flow of two-way conversation during the Q&A session. Shareholders can, without much difficulty, raise follow-up questions when the board does not answer the questions adequately, or when further clarification to the answers is needed. Besides, those who are less tech savvy in navigating online meeting platforms can choose to attend physical AGMs.

On the other hand, virtual AGMs make the AGMs highly accessible to most shareholders, including those from overseas, enabling them to participate in meetings from the comfort of their locations. It also saves time, hassle, and costs of travelling. The online meeting format allows shareholders to attend AGMs back-to-back, which is impossible for physical AGMs held at different locations far apart. As such, having access to remote participation in virtual AGMs will make it more appealing to overseas investors.

Meanwhile, a hybrid AGM combines the best of both worlds, incorporating the elements of both physical and virtual meetings into one. Year to date, MSWG had attended three hybrid AGMs, namely the AGMs of Pertama Digital Berhad, IOI Corporation Berhad and the most recent one, icapital.biz Berhad. At one of these hybrid meetings, we learnt that about one-third of the participants participated in the meeting physically, with the remaining two-thirds joining the AGM remotely.

From our observations, the proceedings of a hybrid AGM were similar to a physical and virtual AGM, except that the Board had to deal with questions raised by shareholders at the physical venue and also online. To ensure the Q&A session was conducted in an orderly manner, the Board addressed the questions raised by shareholders at the physical meeting before proceeding to online questions. Separately, it is noteworthy that IOI Corporation Berhad, one of the largest plantation companies in Bursa Malaysia, conducted its recent AGM in hybrid mode - an exemplary effort indeed. Furthermore, to promote greater transparency, the webcast of its AGMs is available at the company's website. With the proliferation of large-group online meetings and online seminars, the cost of incorporating the virtual element into a hybrid AGM has become more affordable and is considered insignificant to large PLCs. Therefore, we hope to see more PLCs, especially large companies, opting for hybrid AGMs as their long-term meeting format. It allows broader shareholders participation and offers shareholders the flexibility to attend AGMs at their comfort. Having hybrid AGMs is about taking an extra step to encourage greater shareholder participation and activism.

CONSOLIDATION OF TM'S BUSINESS IN MALAYSIA TO STRENGTHEN FIXED MOBILE CONVERGENCE LEADERSHIP AND IMPROVE OPERATIONAL EFFICIENCY

Telekom Malaysia Berhad (TM) today announced an internal reorganisation which involves the transfer of its business in Malaysia to a single operating entity named TM Technology Services Sdn

Bhd. The internal reorganisation is anticipated to complete by 31 December 2023. The reorganisation – which includes Unifi, TM One and TM Wholesale, among others – marks the next phase of the Group’s transformation to be the enabler of a digital Malaysia, and to further improve its operational efficiencies, streamline processes and simplify customer touchpoints to provide a more seamless customer experience. Incorporating its diverse businesses under TM Tech will also reinforce TM’s Fixed-Mobile Convergence leadership, offering integrated fixed broadband, mobile services, data services, digital content and innovative solutions to communities, businesses and the Government.

Group CEO, Imri Mokhtar said, “As digital lifestyles, increasing competition and stakeholder expectations reshape the industry, consolidating these businesses into one operating entity will allow us to serve our diverse customer segments better and deliver their needs more quickly. Consolidating our suite of connectivity and digital offerings will also enable us to easily tap into the right combination of solutions to meet the unique needs of individual lifestyles and businesses. Furthermore, this reorganisation aligns us to industry best practices and will improve TM’s competitive edge among Malaysian and international Telcos and digital players, as we continue to pursue our aspiration of becoming a leading human-centred TechCo,” he added.

Under TM Tech, consumers will continue to enjoy the fastest and widest all-in-one connectivity and digital content. Enterprises and the public sector will also benefit from TM’s digital and smart solutions, including cloud and data centres, cybersecurity and smart industry offerings. The operating entity will also continue to champion TM’s nation-building efforts in expanding and modernising the country’s fibre network, data centres and submarine cable systems. TM Tech will be led by TM’s existing senior management team and will bring together its diverse talents under a single company, encouraging greater agility and cross-functional collaboration to improve service quality.

Imri explained, “Our Warga TM will remain the execution engine for TM and the country’s digital transformation. While our workforce will be realigned to this single operating entity, employee functions, entitlements and benefits will remain unchanged.” Similarly, all of TM’s partnerships, vendor and service agreements will remain in effect.

Telekom Malaysia Berhad will now serve as an investment holding company for this operating entity, with all other subsidiaries within the Group to remain status quo. “Beyond TM’s own growth, this reorganisation strengthens our role in advancing the country’s digital transformation and to serve our customers in a more cohesive manner. While it marks a new milestone in our continuous transformation, we remain anchored to our purpose of enabling digital inclusion, opportunities and progress for all,” Imri concluded.

On behalf of Telekom Malaysia Berhad (TM), CIMB Investment Bank Berhad wishes to clarify that the Proposed Internal Reorganisation is not subject to the approval of the shareholders of TM.
