

“ Inve$t puts the power of data in the hands of retail investors ”

Inve$t is 2 years old, and this is our 101st issue. We launched it at the onset of the pandemic and MCO1.0 in April 2020. Many said it was a wrong time to launch an investment themed publication. Happily, it proved a right decision indeed! Who would have thought Inve$t would fly? People were stuck at home under MCO, not able to travel, shop, dine, club, etc home-bound, flushed with cash but with nowhere to spend it. The local stock market zoomed with trading volume and value through the roof! The pandemic was a boost for glove, technology and pharmaceutical stocks.

Affluent, digitally savvy regular middle-class Malaysians took the opportunity to upgrade their investment literacy by committing up to RM6,000 each for 3-day investment bootcamps conducted by credible mentors. Inve$t became a weekly e-publication to guide retail investors on how to leverage stock market data analytics. The DIY step-by-step guide to use the Market Screener on ShareInvestor WebPro to filter out the best stocks on Bursa Malaysia became well sought-after. Investment-minded Malaysians signed up for their free personal Friday lunchtime read.

Fast forward two years, the Inve$t database grew to over 48,000 regular, middle-class, affluent individuals with one passion – invest & trade profitably in the stock market. Our mission with Inve$t is to enable younger generation Malaysians to leverage data analytics to identify stocks to invest and trade. The ultimate objective is to enable a steady passive income without the pitfalls of stock market speculation and gambling.

Inve$t will continue to provide the best guidance to our community. For this milestone issue, we have redesigned our e-publication to better reader experience on mobile devices. We will expand the content to alternative asset classes like crypto, NFTs, art, precious metals, wine, rare commodities etc.

We thank all our registered Inve$t community of the past two years – and look forward to power you on your investment journey. A big thank you also to our advertisers with the vision and faith in Inve$t as a vital publication in Malaysia.

Wishing everyone good health and profitable journey ahead!

MALAYSIA'S DIVERSIFIED ECONOMIC STRUCTURE WILL MITIGATE DISRUPTION RISK CAUSED BY RUSSIA-UKRAINE CONFLICT

According to Bank Negara Malaysia (BNM) governor Tan Sri Nor Shamsiah Mohd Yunus, although Malaysia as a small and open economy will be affected by disruptions caused by the Russia-Ukraine conflict, the impact on growth will be mitigated by a highly diversified economic structure, which has always been the country's source of strength. The ongoing military conflict in Ukraine is expected to weigh on growth prospects via several channels, including disruptions from the trade and financial sanctions, higher commodity prices and volatile financial markets. But having said that, she also highlighted that Malaysia has a diversified economy with various sources of growth and an export structure, which underpins its economic resilience. For instance, being a net commodity exporter, Malaysia would gain from the surge in crude oil and crude palm oil prices. The higher export proceeds would widen Malaysia's trade surplus and benefit firms and workers in the commodities industry. However, the conflict situation in Ukraine remains highly fluid. Things can change very quickly, and how it affects the Malaysian economy will ultimately depend on the length of the conflict, the extent of the countermeasures and the resulting disruptions to global supply chains. The central bank will continue to monitor this closely and update the assessments accordingly. The conflict in Ukraine had already affected global growth and trade activity. The central bank's baseline forecasts assume that global growth will still remain above the long-term average of between 3.8% and 4.3%. It is also projecting that the Brent crude oil price will range between US$100 (about RM420.50) and US$120 per barrel and that the bank had also built in the supply chain disruptions, especially in commodities and auto related industries. The central bank has projected Malaysia's economy to grow by between 5.3% and 6.3% in 2022 amid the reopening of the economy and international borders.

BURSA LAUNCHES NEW PROGRAMME TO RAISE VELOCITY

According to Bursa Malaysia CEO Datuk Muhamad Umar Swift, Bursa Malaysia has launched Bursa Research Incentive Scheme (Bursa RISE) with the objective to improve the trading velocity and corporate profile of participating public-listed companies (PLCs) through research coverage and marketing activities. The new programme would be carried out by licensed research houses to create better appreciation of the PLC's fundamentals, leading to better value recognition for the companies. Bursa RISE is an initiative in line with the evolving capital market landscape where investors seek greater stakeholder engagement and more transparent communication. With the increasing emphasis on sustainable practices, Bursa RISE will help participating PLCs raise the bar in corporate governance, transparency and disclosure through more frequent and meaningful stakeholder engagements. The programme would also include the Investor Relations (IR) and Public Relations (PR) Incentive Programme, that provides IR and PR support to participating PLCs to enable better engagement with their stakeholders, shareholders, the investment community, the media and the public more effectively. Bursa RISE will complement and support the PLC Transformation Programme which has the objective of encouraging PLCs to be more transparent in their performance, allowing investors to gain better insight to facilitate informed investment decision making. Further data based on a study of a past research programme has shown that velocity for participating PLCs had improved as a result of increased research and profiling. With greater engagement and marketing efforts, investors are expected to pay more attention to the participating PLCs. All these programmes that have been put in place are expected to improve corporate accessibility for participating PLCs, while generating positive outcomes for PLCs, and greater opportunities for investors and stakeholders. A total of 60 participating PLCs were selected based on a set of quantitative and qualitative criteria. The research reports produced under Bursa RISE will be available at <https://www.bursamarketplace.com>.

MALAYSIA'S CURRENCY IN CIRCULATION UP 15.1% TO RM150.1B IN 2021, STRONGEST GROWTH IN TWO DECADES

According to Bank Negara Malaysia (BNM) in its 2021 Annual Report, Malaysia's currency in circulation (CIC) grew by 15.1% year-on-year to RM150.1 billion as of end-2021 from RM130.4 billion a year ago, the strongest annual growth in the last two decades. Businesses and households preferred to hold extra cash in hand for precautionary reasons amid the prolonged Covid-19 pandemic, and a similar trend was observed across many other countries globally. There was also sufficient availability of cash during the unexpected severe floods that affected several parts of the country at the end of 2021. Despite growing demand for cash, the share of coins in CIC fell from 5.1% in the pre-pandemic year of 2019 to 4.3% in 2021 as coins do not command the same status as banknotes as a store of value and a medium of exchange. Through various efforts, in particular deployment of coin deposit machines by financial institutions at selected branches, 60.4 million pieces of coins, equivalent to 7.6% of total coins issued in 2021, were recirculated. To maintain the high quality of CIC, BNM shredded 24.6% of the total volume of banknotes processed, the highest rate in the last five years. In prioritising the issuance of fit banknotes, 57% out of 2.72 billion pieces of banknotes issued in 2021 were fit banknotes as this was not only more cost-effective but also reduced the carbon footprint (given that banknote printing is both water- and energy-intensive). Overall, currency operations nationwide remained uninterrupted last year despite challenges associated with the prolonged Covid-19 pandemic. The availability and accessibility of cash by businesses and households was sustained while maintaining the high quality of CIC and a comparatively low counterfeit rate.

DID I HEAR CEASEFIRE?

Pankaj C Kumar

Pankaj is a former CIO and Head of Research, presently focused on economic, market and corporate analyses. The views expressed here are entirely the writer's own.

Despite the continuous pressure seen in the fixed income market with the 10-year and 2-year benchmark papers flirting towards inversion, equity markets rallied on the prospects of a ceasefire between Russia and Ukraine as both returned to the negotiation table. However, at the point of writing, no concrete outcomes were achieved just yet. The S&P500, which went into correction early this month, has now bounced back more than 10% from its recent low and has convincingly exited the correction territory. Meanwhile, the US plan of releasing its statutory oil reserves sent crude oil prices lower as the market sees it as a way to stabilize the current high market price.

As the US prepares itself not only to increase spending but to rein in budget deficits, President Joe Biden has unveiled a US$5.8 trillion budget request, with more than $2.5 trillion in tax hikes on wealthy and large corporations over the next ten years on top of the nearly $1.5 trillion of increases included in the House's version of the Build Back Better plan. The proposal also adds a 20% minimum tax on the unrealized capital gains for households worth at least US$100mil. Across China, as the spread of Covid-19 has reached major cities, Shanghai entered a staggered 8-day lockdown over two phases to conduct mass testing of its 25 million residents.

ECONOMY

Out of the US, the final University of Michigan's Consumer Sentiment Index for March dipped to a fresh 11-year low of 59.4 and marginally lower than the preliminary print of 59.7. However, the Conference Board's US Consumer Confidence for March rose to 107.2 from the preceding month's reading of 105.7. From the US housing market, the February Pending Home Sales fell by 4.1% m-o-m, steeper than the market's estimate of a 1% rise. In other news, the February headline Personal Consumption Expenditure (PCE) data topped estimate at 6.4% y-o-y gain while Core PCE expanded at 5.4% y-o-y respectively, marginally below the forecast of a 5.5% rise. Both the February prints were higher by 0.2 percentage points than the prior month.

The official Chinese Manufacturing and Non-Manufacturing Purchasing Managers' Index (PMI) for March came in well below expectations at 49.5 and 48.4 against market expectations of 49.8 from 50.3 respectively. Both the readings were also below the February prints of 50.2 and 51.6 and at the same time confirmed that the Chinese economy is now decelerating as reading below 50 suggests that economic activities are contracting.

According to the General Statistic Office, Vietnam's 1Q 2022 GDP slowed down to 5.03% y-o-y from the preceding quarter's growth of 5.22% y-o-y and much lower than the median estimate of 5.7% increase expected by economists. Meanwhile, Thailand left its key benchmark rate unchanged at 0.5%. At the same time, the Bank of Thailand lowered its GDP growth projections to 3.2% from 3.4% previously, while the inflation forecast was raised to 4.9% from the earlier forecast of a 1.7% rise.

Locally, Bank Negara Malaysia's (BNM) 2021 Annual Report was the highlight of the week with the central bank now forecasting a GDP growth of between 5.3-6.3% against the Ministry of Finance's forecast of 5.5-6.5% presented in the Budget 2022. On interest rates, BNM sees the current monetary policy stance as appropriate and the central bank is expected to remain accommodative to support recovery and ensure price stability. As for the inflation outlook, the central bank forecast that the country's headline inflation to average between 2.2-3.2%. The central bank also commented on the recently proposed minimum wage of RM1,500 by the government and BNM reckons that the policy should be implemented in an orderly manner to ensure that it can lend support to economic growth and not add to inflationary pressure.

In other economic news, Malaysia's February headline inflation data moderated to register a growth of 2.2% y-o-y but the core inflation, which takes away the volatile items like fresh food and goods under price control, rose by 1.8% y-o-y, against the January print of a 1.6% y-o-y increase. Meanwhile, the Producer Price Index (PPI) - Local Production for February accelerated to register a growth of 9.7% y-o-y from 9.2% in the preceding month, as commodity prices surged.

The plantation sector was very much in the news this week with the Malaysian Palm Oil Council (MPOC) projecting crude palm oil (CPO) price at between RM5,700 and RM6,300 per tonne until May this year and to undergo a correction in the third quarter with a price range of between RM4,500 and RM5,500 per tonne. Meanwhile, the Malaysian Palm Oil Board (MPOB) projects export revenue of palm-based products to increase by 1.4% to RM110bil this year. Malaysian banking sector again proved its resilience as February loans growth expanded 4.7% y-o-y, maintaining the same growth trend in the preceding month.

CORPORATE

PA Resources won a 1-year contract to supply raw materials worth RM550mil to the First Solar group to produce photovoltaic modules effective July 1, 2023, to July 1, 2024. Lim Seong Hai Capital, a LEAP market-listed company, announced a major asset injection exercise involving a total value of RM157.6mil, which will see the company venturing into the property and construction-related business. Meanwhile, the winning bidders for the five coveted digital bank licences will now be known in the near future and upon completion of the legal process.

EQUITY

Global markets closed mostly firmer on the back of a strong showing among major US indices which rose by between 2.5% and 3.7% the past week. Most major indices were firmer with gains ranging from 0.1% to 2.3% on the Euro Stoxx 50 Price Index, while markets that experienced losses this week fell by between 0.1% and 1%. Stocks on Bursa Malaysia were mixed to lower as mild selling pressure set in among resource-based companies as underlying commodity prices were weaker over the past one week. The KLCI lost 11.61 pts or 0.7% lower to close at 1,587.36 pts.

For the week ended March 30, foreigners and retail market participants emerged as net buyers in the market with inflows of RM530mil and RM41.5mil respectively, leaving the local institutions as net sellers with an outflow of RM571.mil. With just a day to go the month-end and quarterly-end data, net foreign buying as of March 30 stands at RM3.18bil and RM6.36bil respectively.

EYE ON WEEK AHEAD

Later today, the March US jobs report is due to be released with the market looking at Non-Farm Payroll to ease to 490,000 and the unemployment rate to improve to 3.7%. Average Hourly Earnings is expected to increase from a y-o-y increase of 5.1% in the previous month to 5.5% in March.

In addition, a slew of S&P Global Manufacturing PMIs is due today with the release of the Eurozone, ASEAN, and Malaysian readings for March, as well as the JPMorgan Global Manufacturing PMI for the same month. On Tuesday, April 5, the S&P Global Eurozone Composite PMI for March is expected to be released and this is followed by the March JPMorgan Global Composite PMI the next day. On the same day, the Reserve Bank of Australia meets to decide on its official cash rate, which is expected to be held steady at 0.1%, while the March US Institute of Supply Management (ISM) Services PMI is expected to come in at 57.7 from 56.5.

Locally, next week, on Thursday, April 7, BNM will release the international reserves position as at end of March 2022.

ARE TWO HEADS BETTER THAN ONE?

Devanesan
Evanson

Chief Executive Officer, Minority
Shareholders Watch Group

In the shipping realm, there is a leadership attribute hinting that we can have two skippers on the same ship, but we cannot afford to have two destinations for there is where failure starts. However, in the kitchen realm, we are often reminded of the age-old adage of too many cooks spoil the broth although large restaurants do welcome more than one chef to ensure its success. In the same light, it is no longer uncommon in today's corporate world for some companies to pursue the co-CEO or joint chief executive model of leadership. While having two heads can be better than having one, such co-leadership model demands professionalism and mutual understanding par excellence from both heads lest the ensuing leadership falls apart. A rarity at best among Bursa Malaysia-listed companies, Berjaya Corporation Berhad (BJCorp) has joined the fray recently with the appointment of company veterans Vivienne Cheng Chi Fan and Syed Ali Shahul Hameed as joint group CEOs, effective 1 April 2022.

This follows the departure of Abdul Jalil Abdul Rasheed as group CEO of the company effective 31 March 2022. This is not the first time Tan Sri Vincent Tan Chee Yioun, BJCorp founder and chairman, has had the co-leadership model within his stable of companies. Recall that back in October 2020, retail and convenience store operator 7-Eleven Malaysia Holdings Berhad had appointed its then chief financial officer Wong Wai Keong and executive director Tan U-Ming as the co-CEOs for the company, with effect from 1 December 2020. Beyond our shores, American subscription streaming service and production outfit Netflix Inc seems to be coping well by having two CEOs in co-founder Reed Hastings who oversees the streaming side of the company while Ted Sarandos guides Netflix's content. Closer to home, Korean conglomerate Samsung Electronics Co. has two CEOs - Han Jong Hee and Kyung Kye Hyun who were appointed to their position in late 2021, overseeing different businesses within the electronic giant. Samsung used to have three co-CEOs in 2013 and 2018 respectively.

THE GOOD AND BAD

It has been said that the co-CEO leadership concept is gaining more recognition of late following the eruption of the COVID-19 pandemic whereby running a business organisation amid the global health crisis has taken its toll on the mental health of C-suite executives with the pressing needs of managing their remote workforces. Even now as companies are placing intense focus on recovery and growth in the toughest of economic climates, more are beginning to question the status quo. This has led many businesses to adopt a co-CEO model based on the theory that they drive business recovery without the risk of draining one individual. But the truth remains that the success rate of the co-CEO arrangements varies from one industry to another with much mixed outcome. This can be predominantly attributed to the fact that "although two heads are better than one, no two heads can think alike".

Critics of the co-leadership believe that the key to a successful organisation is to have an effective decision process and have the right influences around the sole decision maker – the CEO. In 2020, software firm SAP abandoned its co-CEO structure after just six months, stating

“a lone CEO model” would “provide a clearer leadership structure” to tackle pandemic-related business challenges. Tire maker Pirelli’s co-CEO Angelos Papadimitriou also walked out in January 2021 after only six months on what was said to be a mutual decision. Interestingly, however, HR Asia – a regional publication on HR issues, believes that “counter-intuitively, joint executive leadership structures can and do work given the right conditions.”

BELOW ARE SOME OF ITS PERSPECTIVES:

More robust business decisions:

Having a shared governance structure allows two CEOs with different personalities, backgrounds and experience to share perspectives, knowledge and experience on significant business decisions as well as aiding policymaking. Using the other as a sounding board, there is less chance of major decisions being compromised through personal bias as well as granting a greater level of objectivity.

Better strategic management:

The structure brings together two individuals with job complementarity or educational complementarity (e.g., a CEO with an MBA while the other has a graduate science background). This brings together a broader set of experience and knowledge as well as produce better long-term strategies.

Shareholder interest protected:

With co-CEOs, self-regulation comes into play. Each CEO ensures the other works as hard as them to boost results, reducing the need to link pay and performance as much as with single CEO. Moreover, the presence of a co-CEO creates a situation of implicit mutual monitoring, leading to greater accountability in the management and the protection of the interests of investors and other stakeholders.

CONCLUSION

There are undoubtedly pros and cons in both the single CEO and co-CEO leadership models. From the minority shareholders' standpoint, it is hoped that the board of BCorp has dutifully weighed the suitability of implementing the co-CEO model within the group as this will certainly increase the success rate of its implementation. Unorthodox as it sounds, it is hoped that such a leadership model can further enhance shareholders' value given the share price of BCorp has been on a downslide from an intraday high of 50.5 sen (more than a six-year high) reached on 1 April 2021 to the current price range of 23 sen (a 54% dip). In the end, there should be a partnership between the two co-CEOs and there needs to be boundaries to the roles they play in the operational and decision-making process of the business. Then again, dual CEO situations may very well be an interim measure pending the emergence of a single CEO.
