Is there an investment opportunity in JUMBER

SUMMARY

Despite steady revenue growth, Sleep Number Corporation's (NASDAQ: SNBR) profit after tax peaked in 2021 and has since declined, with operating efficiency and profitability showing a downward trend.

- SNBR has consistently generated positive cash flow from operations, but it has a high debt-to-equity ratio and relies on borrowing for CAPEX and acquisitions.
- The company's fundamentals are average, with limited growth potential, making it more of a "cigar-butt" investment opportunity than a high-growth prospect.

INVESTMENT THESIS

SNBR has seen its revenue grow at an average rate of 11.1% per year over the past 8 years. However, this growth mainly came from higher prices, not from selling more products. Because of this, SNBR is not a true "high-growth" company. Looking at the company's overall performance, it is just average. There are both positives and negatives in how the company is doing. Despite this, I believe there's still a good investment opportunity here, as the stock seems undervalued by more than 30% based on its Earnings Power Value.

BACKGROUND

SNBR started as a bedding company but has shifted its focus to become a wellness technology company. The company is best known for its Sleep Number beds, which are smart beds designed to adjust to individual sleepers' needs for better sleep quality. Most of SNBR's sales came from its retail stores across the country. The rest came from online, phone, and other channels. Over the last 12 years, the number of SNBR stores has grown, leading to increases in both sales per store and sales per mattress. Refer to Chart 1.

However, while these numbers might make SNBR seem like a high-growth company, some challenges suggest otherwise. It's more appropriate to evaluate the company using a more conservative method like Earnings Power Value, which focuses on current earnings rather than future growth.

OPERATING TRENDS

Over the past 8 years, SNBR's revenue grew steadily. But despite this, the company's profit after tax (PAT) peaked in 2021 and then declined. In 2023, PAT was lower than in 2016, even though the company had higher revenue. Refer to the left part of Chart 2.

Chart 2: Performance Index and Operating Profit

Note to Op Profit Profile: I broke down the operating profits into fixed costs and variable costs.

- Fixed cost = SGA, Depreciation & Amortization and Others.
- Variable cost = Cost of Sales Depreciation & Amortization.
- Contribution = Revenue Variable Cost.
- Contribution margin = Contribution/Revenue.

More worrisome was the decline in gross profitability since 2016 as shown in the left part of Chart 2. According to Professor Novy-Marx, this metric has the same power as PBV in predicting cross-section returns of stocks. The declining trend indicates increasing capital inefficiencies.

The operating profits for the past 2 years had declined after peaking in 2021. You can see this from the right part of Chart 2. In the chart, the gap between the revenue and the total costs (Fixed cost + Variable cost) represents the operating profit. At the same time, the contribution margin has been declining since 2016. The declining profits and operating metrics are not the signs of a high-growth company.

I also have concerns about some of the other trends

 SNBR reported a high return on invested capital (ROIC), peaking at 47% in 2022. Refer to the left part of Chart 3. However, this number is somewhat misleading because it's influenced by the company's aggressive share buyback program, which reduced the company's equity. When we adjust for this, we see that the actual returns have been declining since 2016. For details refer to the original article.  The number of mattresses SNBR sells has barely increased over the past 8 years. Refer to the right part of Chart 3. The revenue growth has come mostly from higher prices, not from selling more products. While the company has managed to increase the profit per mattress, this price-driven growth doesn't signal a highgrowth business.

FINANCIAL POSITION

I also rate SNBR's financial position as average as there were both positive and negative points. Its key positive point is the cash flow picture.

- From 2016 to 2023, it generated positive cash flow from operations every year. In total, it generated USD1.3 billion cash flow from operations compared to the total PAT of USD0.6 billion. This is an excellent cash conversion ratio.
- From 2016 to 2023, it had an average negative Reinvestment. I defined Reinvestment = CAPEX & acquisition - Depreciation & amortization + increase in Net Working Capital. The negative arose because the amount spent on CAPEX and Net Working Capital was more than offset by the Depreciation & amortization. This negative picture is a good sign as it meant that the company did not have to worry about funding its growth.

Its negative points included the following:

- It has a 151% Debt Capital ratio as of the end of Jun 2024. As per the Damodaran Jan 2024 dataset, the Debt Capital ratio for the furniture/home furnishing sector was 32%. It was only 14% for the household products sector.
- As of the end of Jun 2024, it had USD2 million in cash. This was about 0.2% of its total assets.

 It did not have a good capital allocation plan as shown in Table 1. The cash flow from operations was barely sufficient to fund share buybacks. It had to raise additional Debt for its CAPEX and acquisitions.

	T
Items	Sources	Uses
	(USD m)	(USD m)
Cash flow from Ops	1,249
Net Debt	557
New shares	31
Buybacks		1,405
Net CAPEX & acquistions		459
Cash and misc	28
Total	1,865	1,865

Table 1: Source and Uses of Funds 2016 to 2023

KEY TAKEAWAYS

- SNBR has seen strong revenue growth, but this growth is primarily due to higher prices, not increased sales volume.
- The company's profitability and efficiency have been declining, which is not a good sign for long-term growth.
- Given these factors, it's better to value SNBR based on its current earnings rather than expecting significant future growth.
- SNBR does not need a lot of new investments to grow its revenue, which is a positive sign. However, the company has a high level of debt compared to its industry peers and has been relying on borrowing to fund its operations. While it has consistently generated positive cash flow, its overall financial health is just average.

VALUATION

I considered 3 scenarios in my valuation of SBNR at the end of 2023.

· Scenario 1: This is the Earnings Power Value case assuming that there is no growth. I assumed that the 2023 revenue represented the future base revenue.

- Scenario 2: This is an optimistic scenario. I assumed that the company's growth rate of 3% that was half of that of its cost of funds. I also assumed that the 2023 revenue represented the future base revenue.
- Scenario 3: For this Earnings Power Value case, I assumed that the past 3 years average revenue represented the future base revenue.

Given the volatile PAT and margins, it may be more appropriate to look at the average margins over the past 8 years when valuing SNBR. This will ensure that we do not have a misleading picture by using the value of a particular year. For all the Scenarios, I assumed the following key parameters:

- The contribution margin was based on the 2016 to 2023 average values.
- Capital turnover (Revenue / TCE) was based on the 2016 to 2023 average ratios

The results of the valuations are shown in Table 2. Refer to the original article for details of the valuation.

Scenarios		Value	Margin	Revenue
		USD/share	of safety %	USD m
Scenario 1 - EPV		12	NIL	1,955
Scenario 2 with 3 % growth		43	176%	1,955
Scenario 3 - EPV		58	273%	2,085
Market price 27	Dec 2023	15

Table 2: Valuation Summary

CONCLUSION

The analysis of SNBR presents a mixed picture:

- The company has seen an average annual revenue growth of 11.1%, but this growth has been driven more by price increases rather than selling more units.
- There hasn't been much improvement in its operating efficiency.
- SNBR has a high debt-to-equity ratio, but it has consistently generated positive cash flow from operations each year. Its ability to convert operational cash flow into profits is also strong.
- The business doesn't require significant additional capital to grow, which is a positive sign.

Given these factors, I would rate SNBR as a company with "average fundamentals" rather than a "wonderful" company. On the plus side, there is a significant margin of safety from a valuation perspective, whether we look at it based on current earnings or assume a modest 3% growth rate. This is more of an investment opportunity that leans towards a "cigar-butt" - a company with some value left, but not a top-tier business at a fair price. However, it still presents a good opportunity for long-term value investors.

I am a long-term value investor who has held onto stocks for more than 5 years. My analysis and valuation are from such a perspective. I consider quarterly results "noisy" and focus on long-term trends.

CAPITAL MARKET KEY TO DRIVING CLIMATE TRANSITION - SC

ccording to Securities Commission Malaysia (SC) chairman Datuk Mohammad Faiz Azmi, the capital market can be a major catalyst in the climate change transition by channelling investments into key sectors, such as renewable energy, green technologies and sustainable agriculture. Malaysia has one of the largest bond markets in the region, capable of meeting these needs, while also supporting SMEs in their sustainability efforts. This ensures SMEs can access the financing and resources necessary to thrive in a low-carbon economy.

Speaking during his keynote address at the National Climate Governance Summit 2024 themed "Capital Markets Supporting a Smooth and Just Transition", he said that the SC's principle-based Sustainable Responsible Investment (SRI) Taxonomy introduced in 2022 was one of the first taxonomies globally to include a social component, furthering the SC's commitment towards a more holistic approach to sustainable and responsible investments.

He also emphasised that the capital market plays a crucial role in fostering economic resilience and providing capital for climate adaptation initiatives. This is normally the government's responsibility but the private markets have a role to play, using a mixture of blended finance and other tools to make some of these projects bankable.

He quoted the Sultan of Perak Sultan Nazrin Shah from his speech at the SC-Oxford Centre for Islamic Studies (OCIS) roundtable in Oxford, UK last weekend, "businesses must be part of the solution to global challenges. They must take responsibility for their broader impacts on the world around them, on their stakeholders, as well as shareholders - no longer able to dismiss these as being outside their primary profit-making functions. Mining companies must clean up when they leave a site. Agricultural companies must allocate land for protective buffers around waterways. The chemicals they use are now carefully monitored, and the workers applying these must have protective gear".

The SC Chairman went on to say that RM27.61 billion worth of SRI sukuk has been issued in Malaysia since the release of the SRI Sukuk Framework, funding a range of projects from renewable energy to affordable housing. The SC recently introduced the principles-based Magasid al-Shariah Guidance for the Malaysian Islamic Capital Market (ICM), while the Securities Industry Development Corporation (SIDC), the SC's capacity-building arm, is leading efforts to educate and empower market participants on SRI practices.

UOB KAY HIAN UNVEILS 16 GLOBAL SHARIAH-COMPLIANT DERIVATIVES TO ADDRESS INCREASING DEMAND OF SHARIAH INVESTORS

■ OB Kay Hian Securities (M) Sdn Bhd officially launched 16 shariah-compliant global commodity futures. According to UOB Kay Hian CEO David Lim, the aim to address the increasing demand for shariah-compliant global derivatives products fully supports the efforts by the Securities Commission Malaysia and Bursa Malaysia in empowering the development of Islamic finance, specifically in the derivatives capital market.

In his opening speech, he said "We believe that shariah-compliant investments play an important role in shaping a fairer, more stable, and ethical financial future, as well as ensuring shariah objectives are secured. As the shariah-compliant derivatives market was previously limited, this launch offers a range of products that have been carefully reviewed, ensuring full compliance with shariah principles. With this, we are confident that these products will open up new opportunities for investors, both in Malaysia and globally.

The shariah-compliant commodity futures offered by UOB Kay Hian are traded on major global markets including Bursa Malaysia Derivatives (BMD), New York Mercantile Exchange (Nymex), Chicago Board of Trade (CBOT), and Singapore Stock Exchange (SGX). The derivatives offered include crude palm oil futures (FCPO) on Bursa Malaysia, Nymex light sweet crude oil (CL), soybean oil futures on CBOT, and SICOM rubber futures on SGX. The full list of shariah compliant global commodity futures offered by UOB Kay Hian is available on its website.

He added that this provides investors with greater flexibility and exposure to various asset classes meticulously reviewed to adhere to Islamic principles, ensuring that they are permissible under shariah law. By investing in these products, investors can contribute to a more just and equitable financial landscape.

He concluded saying that this launch is a testament to UOB Kay Hian's commitment in providing a variety of investment options, to meet the demands of modern investors. And he hoped that this initiative will attract more investors, especially from the Bumiputera community, and be a catalyst for innovation and growth in the Islamic finance sector.

SAME GAME SAME DICE

hareholders of Grand Central Enterprises Bhd (GCE) will congregate on 13 September 2024 to decide the fate of the Proposed Withdrawal of GCE's listing from the Bursa Malaysia. If successful, this deal would be another "not fair but reasonable" privatisation offer, echoing similar sentiments from previous privatisation exercises.

GCE'S VOLUNTARY WITHDRAWAL - A DONE DEAL FOR MINORITY SHAREHOLDERS?

Following a recent analysis of MPHB Capital Berhad's privatisation offer at RM1.70 per share, The Observer now turns its attention to another privatisation move – the Proposed Withdrawal of Grand Central Enterprises Bhd (GCE)'s listing from the Main Market of Bursa Malaysia Securities Berhad, pursuant to paragraph 16.06 of the Main Market Listing Requirements (MMLR) of Bursa Malaysia Securities Berhad (collectively referred to Proposed Withdrawal). If successful, this deal would be another "not fair but reasonable" privatisation offer, echoing similar sentiments from previous exercises.

The privatisation of GCE was announced on 22 July 2024 by its controlling shareholders - Hotel Grand Central Limited (HGCL) and Tan Chee Hoe & Sons Sdn Bhd (TCHSSB) (referred to as Proposers or Joint Offerors), who collectively hold 73.39% of GCE's total issued shares as of 16 August 2024.

GCE is principally involved in the hotel business in Malaysia. It owns and operates five hotels under the Hotel Grand Continental brand located in Kuala Lumpur, Kuala Terengganu, Kuantan (pic), Kuching, and Langkawi with varying equity interests, and Hotel Grand Crystal located in Kedah under a management agreement. (Picture Source: grandconkuantan.com)

To facilitate the Proposed Withdrawal (which represents a conditional voluntary take-over offer), HGCL and TCHSSB have offered 46 sen per share to acquire the remaining 26.61% or 52.43 million GCE shares they do not already own (collectively referred to as Exit Offer). The Joint Offerors do not intend to maintain GCE's listing status on the Main Market of Bursa Malaysia.

Pursuant to paragraph 16.06(1)(c) of the MMLR, and subject to shareholders' approval, the Proposers who requested the withdrawal of listing must offer the shareholders a reasonable cash alternative or other reasonable alternative. With that, the Exit Offer is to facilitate the Proposed Withdrawal.

RATIONALE OF PROPOSED WITHDRAWAL

The Proposed Withdrawal and Exit Offer came amid GCE's consecutive streak of losses for the past ten years up to the financial year ended 31 December 2023 (FY2023) and the latest financial period ended 31 March 2024 (FPE 2024).

Amid the rising cost of doing business and stiff competition from new hotels, GCE anticipates challenging financial performance moving forward. Given the lacklustre prospects, the Company believes it is unlikely to raise sufficient funds for business improvements in the capital markets.

As it is, the Joint Offerors believe that privatising GCE will grant them greater flexibility in executing restructuring plans for the Company while free from the obligations of complying with listing requirements.

Additionally, GCE shares have been thinly traded, with an average monthly trading volume of just 500,221 for the past 12 months leading up to July 2024, representing a liquidity turnover of approximately 0.98%. Given the limited trading activity in GCE shares, the Joint Offerors claimed the Exit Offer allows shareholders to realise their investment immediately at an offer price of 46 sen per share.

ANOTHER "NOT FAIR BUT REASONABLE" EXIT OFFER

In its independent advice letter (IAL) dated 22 August 2024, independent adviser (IA) MainStreet Advisers Sdn Bhd concluded that the Exit Offer is "not fair but reasonable" and that it recommends shareholders to accept the Exit Offer.

The Exit Offer is "not fair" as its offer price of 46 sen per share represents:

- (i) A discount of 60.68% to the estimated fair value of RM1.71 per GCE share, calculated based on the revalued net asset value (RNAV) method
- (ii) A discount of 52.08% to the latest unaudited net asset (NA) per share of 96 sen per share as at 31 March 2024

Then again, the IA opined that the Exit Offer was "reasonable", as it provides an opportunity for shareholders, especially those with substantial holdings, to realise their investments in GCE - an opportunity that would have been unlikely given GCE's low trading volume and lacklustre share prices over the past three years. Its prolonged losses and inability to distribute dividends since FY2019 added to the woes of limited upside in share prices.

Since the Exit Offer is intended to facilitate the Proposed Withdrawal, the IA has also assessed the offer to provide non-interested directors and shareholders a comprehensive understanding of the Proposed Withdrawal. From a holistic perspective, the IA opined the Proposed Withdrawal is "fair and reasonable", and not detrimental to shareholders, considering the following:

- (i) GCE has incurred losses for the past 10 consecutive financial years due to a challenging operating environment. Besides, its NA per share has been declining RM1.29 (FY2014) to 97 sen (FY2023) and 96 sen (FPE 2024).
- (ii) Its hotels have an occupancy rate of around 24% and an average building age of 31 years. Given this, capital-intensive refurbishment is essential for it to remain competitive in the hospitality industry.
- (iii) There is no assurance that the GCE shares can be realised at its estimated RNAV.
- (iv) The market prices of GCE shares have been trading below the Offer Price for the past 12 months up to 19 July 2024.
- (v) GCE shares are illiquid.
- (vi) The Board received no alternative proposal for the Offer Shares (including any offer to acquire the assets and liabilities of the GCEB group). Moreover, since the Joint Offerors and the PACs collectively hold the majority stake of approximately 74.25% in GCEB shares as of 16 August 2024, any alternative proposal will be of no avail without their support.

Therefore, the IA recommends that shareholders vote in favour of the resolution on the Proposed Withdrawal, which will be presented at GCE's upcoming physical Extraordinary General Meeting (EGM) on 13 September 2024. The IA further notes that its views on both the Proposed Withdrawal and Exit Offer are aligned, advising holders to accept the Exit Offer and shareholders to vote in favour of the Proposed Withdrawal resolution.

LIMITED OPTIONS FOR MINORITY SHAREHOLDERS

It is concerning that, as outlined in Section 11 of the Circular dated 22 August 2024, all shareholders - including those with an interest in the proposal - are entitled to vote on the resolution related to the Proposed Withdrawal. The reasoning is that the Proposed Withdrawal impacts the rights of all shareholders, and no specific shareholder or group of shareholders is expected to gain an undue advantage from the proposal.

In this context, the Proposed Withdrawal is not deemed a related party transaction and does not present a conflict of interest under the Listing Requirements. Consequently, interested parties are not required to abstain from voting on the resolution at the upcoming EGM, regardless of their direct or indirect shareholdings.

Indeed, this situation is unfavourable to minority shareholders. Given that the Joint Offerors and their persons acting in concert (PACs) initiated the proposal and stood to benefit from the delisting of GCE, how can they not be considered related parties when their interests are directly tied to the outcome of the proposal?

Besides, according to GCE's unaudited financial results for the period ending 30 June 2024, it has cash and cash equivalents totaling RM42.5 million. It costs the Joint Offerors just RM24.1 million to acquire the remaining shares that they do not already own. Should the Proposed Withdrawal succeed, the Joint Offerors stand to pocket the remaining RM18.4 million cash, along with the five hotels owned and run by GCE.

Ironically, the fate of GCE's minority shareholders lies in the hands of two non-interested independent non-executive directors (INEDs). GCE's four executive directors and one other INED were considered interested parties in the proposal, leaving the decision largely to the two INEDs.

Upon reviewing the IA's opinion, they deemed the Proposed Withdrawal and Exit Offer 'fair and reasonable,' despite the offer price being at a 60.68% discount to GCE's RNAV per share. As a result, the proposal was put forth for shareholders' consideration, and shareholders were advised to vote in favour of it.

With the Joint Offerors and their PACs holding the lion's share of GCE, minority shareholders have limited options. The Proposed Withdrawal appears to be a done deal. Even if minority shareholders reject the Exit Offer, they risk having their investments tied up in an unlisted entity for an extended period. This pain could be particularly excruciating if their cost of investment far exceeds the offer price.

This situation reminds us of Uncle K, who recounted his story of investing in GCE over a decade ago, hoping that these would one day be passed down as an inheritance. Now, he finds himself in a predicament: accept the exceptionally unfair Exit Offer or risk holding onto shares of an unlisted entity.

NOT THE FIRST AND NOT THE LAST

Notably, GCE's 60.68% discount to the RNAV of RM1.71 per share is likely the steepest among the eight PLCs that have announced privatisation in the past two years and eight months. In each of those cases, the IA concluded that the offer was 'not fair but reasonable, yet still advised disinterested shareholders to accept the offer or vote in favour, particularly when the offeror intended to delist the company.

These exercises were deemed "not fair" because offer prices were at a discount between 10.84% and 60.68% of their fair value. Of the eight PLCs, six have been successfully delisted while two, namely MPHB Capital Berhad and GCE, are still in progress.

It may be time for regulators to reconsider the acceptance of 'not fair but reasonable' voluntary exit offers. At the very least, PLCs intending to delist should offer prices that are 'fair and reasonable' for all shareholders.

Again, we advocate for practices similar to those in Singapore, where voluntary delisting offers must be both "fair and reasonable". A fair offer price that meets or exceeds the estimated fair value would better align the interests of minority shareholders with those of the offeror.

Additionally, independent directors are entrusted to protect the interests of minority shareholders. They should reject privatisation offers that are grossly unfair to minority shareholders. For Malaysia's capital market to thrive, we aspire to a future where privatisation offers are genuinely 'fair and reasonable' for all shareholders, leaving no room for unfair offers at steep discounts.
