SUMMARY

 AGCO Corporation (NYSE: AGCO) has maintained market share with steady revenue growth (4.5% CAGR) and improved returns, particularly since 2020. Its joint venture with Trimble reinforces its focus on core agricultural machinery.

- The company consistently generated positive operating cash flow, managed reinvestment effectively, and maintained a healthy liquidity buffer, despite a moderate rise in leverage.
- AGCO enhanced margins and efficiency, outperforming peers in return on capital since 2020, though it remains average in EBIT margin and cash flow metrics.

BACKGROUND

AGCO is a North American farm equipment manufacturer and distributor. Founded in 1990, it has become a global leader in agricultural machinery and precision agriculture technology.

By 2023, only about 25% of AGCO's revenue came from North America. Europe and the Middle East became the largest contributors (Chart 1, right). Product-wise, tractors remained the core, accounting for around 60% of revenue (Chart 1, left).

In 2024, the company undertook several strategic moves:

 Apr 2024: AGCO formed a USD2 billion joint venture with Trimble Inc. to enhance factory-fit and aftermarket precision agriculture solutions for mixed fleets.  Jul 2024: AGCO agreed to sell most of its Grain & Protein business for USD700 million.

The company stated that selling the Grain & Protein business "does not represent a strategic shift that will have a major effect on the consolidated results of operations." Nevertheless, taken together with the Trimble joint venture, I see this as a sign that the company will continue to focus on the agricultural machinery sector.

The global tractors and agricultural machinery sector remained mature, with several market research companies forecasting a compounded single-digit growth rate over the next decade.

OPERATING PERFORMANCE

AGCO's operating performance over the past decade reflects the characteristics of a mature industry with modest growth prospects. Given the single-digit projected growth rates for the global agricultural machinery market, it is not surprising that AGCO's revenue expanded at a CAGR of 4.5% during this period. This performance suggests that the company has broadly maintained its market share in a stable-demand environment.

As shown in the left part of Chart 2, the bulk of AGCO's revenue growth occurred from 2021 onwards. The company attributed this to improved market demand and favourable pricing. This pricing power translated into a notable improvement in profitability from 2020 to 2023.

Returns followed suit - both ROIC and ROE experienced a significant jump starting in 2020, as seen in the right part of Chart 2.

Over the past decade, AGCO has generated an average ROIC of 12% compared to a current weighted average cost of capital (WACC) of 8%, and an average ROE of 13% against a cost of equity of 10%. With returns consistently exceeding the cost of funds, this indicates that the company has created value for its shareholders.

Operationally, AGCO also became more efficient. Gross profitability, measured as gross profit over total assets, improved from an average of 26% in 2014/15 to 31% in 2022/23, as shown in the left part of Chart 2.

This improvement was driven by a combination of higher gross profit margins, lower selling, general, and administrative (SGA) expenses, and a stronger contribution margin - all of which point to sound cost control.

In summary, AGCO has demonstrated solid top-line and bottomline performance within a mature industry context. The company achieved this through pricing power, margin expansion, and operating discipline.

PEER PERFORMANCE

To put AGCO's performance in context, I compared it against several global agricultural machinery peers (see Table 1). AGCO is among the smaller players in the group in terms of revenue, but it still managed to deliver average revenue growth from 2014 to 2023. This supports the earlier conclusion that AGCO has broadly maintained its market share.

In terms of profitability and returns, AGCO's return on capital has improved markedly in recent years and has led the peer group since 2020. However, the company remains one of the weaker performers in terms of EBIT margin.

For metrics such as Levered Free Cash Flow Margin and Earnings Per Share (EPS), AGCO's performance sits

Company	Revenue
	2,023	2014 to 2023
	USD m	CAGR %
AGCO	14,412	4%
Deere (DE)	61,222	6%
CNH Industrial N.V. (CNH)	24,687	-3%

around the industry average.

FINANCIAL POSITION

AGCO appears to be in a financially sound position, supported by strong operating cash flows, disciplined reinvestment, and prudent capital allocation.

From 2014 to 2024, the company generated USD7.4 billion in operating cash flow, exceeding its USD4.3 billion in net income over the same period. This reflects a robust cash conversion ratio, reinforcing the quality of AGCO's earnings.

As of December 2024, AGCO held USD612 million in cash and short-term investments, representing about 5% of its total assets - a comfortable liquidity buffer.

The company's reinvestment rate (Reinvestment/NOPAT) averaged 34% over the past 12 years, and 16% excluding acquisitions. This suggests that a significant portion of its net operating profit after tax (NOPAT) was available for shareholder returns.

AGCO also demonstrated a sound capital allocation strategy, as shown in Table 2. Its operating cash flows were sufficient to fund capital expenditures and acquisitions, with the surplus returned to shareholders via dividends and share buybacks.

AGCO's debt-capital ratio rose to 40% as of Dec 2024, up from a pre-2024 high of 37%, mainly due to the Trimble joint venture. While this is higher than the 14% sector average reported by Damodaran (Jan 2024), AGCO's strong historical cash generation mitigates concerns about its increased leverage.

In sum, AGCO's solid cash flow, moderate reinvestment needs, and responsible capital deployment underpin a resilient and well-managed financial position, even with the recent rise in debt.

VALUATION

AGCO is a mature company operating in a mature industry. Given this, and the limited growth impact expected from the Trimble joint venture, I have valued the company using the following conservative assumptions. Refer to the original article for the details.

- Perpetual revenue growth rate: 4%.
- Base revenue: 2024 outlook, which is 13% lower than 2023's revenue.
- Margins and efficiencies: Based on 10-year historical averages, to account for recent high pricing effects.

Using these inputs, the intrinsic value was estimated at USD133 per share, compared to the market price of USD93 per share (as of the end of 2024), implying a margin of safety of over 30%.

A key valuation risk relates to product pricing, which remains 40% to 50% above pre-2020 levels. To account for this, a Monte Carlo simulation focusing on downside revenue scenarios was conducted. Even under the assumption that long-term revenue never exceeds the June 2024 projection, the results show a 50% probability that intrinsic value exceeds market price, indicating solid downside protection.

CONCLUSION

AGCO is a fundamentally sound company operating in a mature industry. Over the past decade, it has maintained market share, improved profitability, and delivered above-average returns. Its strong cash generation, disciplined reinvestment, and sound capital allocation underpin a solid financial position.

My valuation yielded an intrinsic value of USD133 per share, offering more than a 30% margin of safety versus the market price as of the end of 2024. You can see why I consider AGCO a value investment opportunity.

I am a long-term value investor who has held onto stocks for more than 5 years. My analysis and valuation are from such a perspective. I consider quarterly results "noisy" and focus on long-term trends.

Malaysia's 1Q2025 growth estimated at 4.4% - DOSM

ccording to Department of Statistics Malaysia (DOSM) Chief Statistician Datuk Seri Dr Mohd Uzir Mahidin, Malaysia's advance GDP estimates point to a steady growth of 4.4% in 1Q2025, although this marks a moderation from the 5% recorded in the previous quarter. The growth continued to be underpinned by the services, manufacturing and construction sectors, while the mining and quarrying sector remained on a declining trajectory. However, on a QoQ basis, the economy contracted by 3.7%, against a 2.7% expansion in 4Q2024.

Continuing its upward trajectory, Malaysia's industrial production showed moderate growth in February 2025. The Industrial Production Index (IPI) rose by 1.5%, largely driven by a notable 4.8% expansion in the manufacturing sector. This positive performance outweighed declines in other sectors, notably mining and electricity, which recorded contractions of 8.9% and 2.8% respectively. These contrasting outcomes underscore the uneven nature of industrial production in the country. When comparing MoM figures, the IPI experienced a drop of 6.8% in February, a sharp decline compared to a marginal decrease of 0.4% recorded in January 2025.

Looking at a broader perspective, Malaysia's wholesale & retail trade sector achieved RM148.3 billion of sales in February 2025, reflecting a growth of 5.1% compared to the same month in the previous year. This increase was largely driven by strong performances in retail trade which grew by 5.9% and wholesale trade at 5.3%. In a similar trend, the volume index also experienced a YoY rise of 3.9%, with wholesale trade rising 4.9% and retail trade growing 4.3%.

However, when compared to January 2025, the sector saw a slight decline of 0.4% in overall sales, primarily due to decreases in both wholesale trade (-1.9%) and retail trade (-1.5%). This indicates a slowdown in consumer activity MoM, despite the positive YoY performance.

In a climate of stable economic conditions, Malaysia's inflation rate eased to 1.5% in February 2025, down from 1.7% in January. This moderation was primarily driven by slower price increases in key categories such as housing, water, electricity, gas & other fuels, which saw a growth of 2.3%, and recreation, sport & culture which increased by 1.5%.

Malaysia's trade sector continued to demonstrate steady growth in early 2025, driven by strong performances in both exports and imports. In February 2025, Malaysia's total trade increased by 5.9% YoY, reaching RM223.9 billion. This growth was largely fuelled by a 6.2% rise in exports, which amounted to RM118.3 billion, alongside a 5.5% increase in imports, totalling RM105.6 billion. As a result, the trade surplus saw a significant boost, rising by 12.2% to reach RM12.6 billion.

He added that the country's labour market continued to show strength, with the number of employed persons rising by 2.9% YoY to reach 16.73 million in February 2025. This growth led to an increase in the employment-to-population ratio, which climbed to 68.5%, up from 68.2% in the same period last year. The labour force also expanded by 2.6%, reaching a total of 17.27 million, supported by a slight increase in the labour force participation rate which rose to 70.7%.

He noted that the number of unemployed persons decreased by 4.3%, falling to 532.8 thousand, which contributed to an unemployment rate of 3.1%.

MIMOS and MyEG launch Malaysia Blockchain Infrastructure to boost digital economy

n a significant boost to Malaysia's digital economy and in support of the Government Digital Asset initiative, MIMOS Berhad (MIMOS) and MY E.G. Services Berhad (MyEG) announced the operationalisation of the Malaysia Blockchain Infrastructure (MBI), a neutral and trusted platform for digital services and innovation across sectors. Developed to be a catalyst for creativity, MBI fosters an environment where developers and innovators can explore and build cutting-edge blockchain applications that drive value and transformation across industries.

According to MIMOS Acting President and Group Chief Executive Officer Dr Saat Shukri Embong, the MBI will drive competitiveness, positioning Malaysia as a regional leader in blockchain adoption and development, potentially attracting investment and highlyskilled talent. He added that more importantly, it embodies digital inclusivity, making blockchain technology accessible to all Malaysians, regardless of their technical expertise.

The MBI also plays a vital role in streamlining a wide range of digital assets, including MyDigitalID verifiable credentials, non-fungible tokens (NFTs), and decentralised finance (DeFi) applications, increasing accessibility to blockchain technology by simplifying the user experience and enabling broader participation for non-technical users.

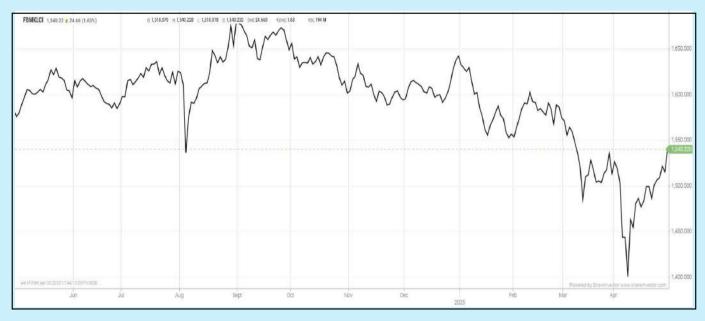

Early adopter industry partners, such as Masverse, Cokeeps, iTrace, Heitech Padu are leveraging MBI to deploy solutions in supply chain traceability, digital identity, asset custody, and tokenisation across public and private sectors. Solutions like MyDigitalID will benefit from MBI's integrated capabilities, ensuring verifiability, accessibility, and interoperability to support use cases ranging from simple on-site registrations to complex cross-border and commercial verifications.

As the nation's applied research and development centre, MIMOS is pivotal in driving blockchain adoption. MBI aims to address the challenges of a fragmented ecosystem by unifying diverse platforms. It uses MYEG's blockchain infrastructure, Zetrix, as its core chain, working in tandem with other public chains like Ethereum, Solana, and Private Blockchains to create a single interface.

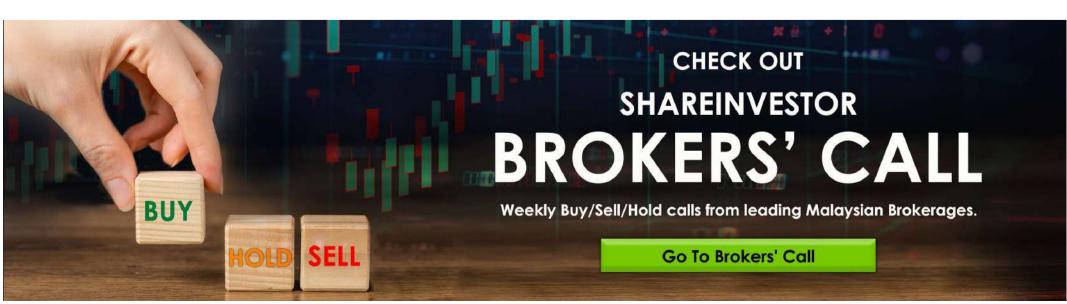

All stakeholders, industry, researchers, and policymakers must maintain a strong collaborative spirit to bring this initiative to fruition. A robust public and private partnership is essential for Malaysia to establish an inclusive, sustainable, and resilient blockchain ecosystem regionally.

s Binacom steps into unfamiliar territory with several high-risk corporate proposals, it is crucial for minority shareholders to remain vigilant and insist on stronger transparency and accountability from the board.

GREEN LIGHT GIVEN BUT SHAREHOLDERS URGED TO WATCH

Though Binasat Communications Berhad's (Binacom) shareholders approved a slew of corporate exercises in an extraordinary general meeting on Wednesday (23 April 2025), with only MSWG voting against the resolutions, the execution of these plans should be closely watched by all shareholders.

The exercises include acquisitions of properties, diversification into property-related activities, and a private placement of up to 30% of the Company's issued shares to partly finance these acquisitions. However, for vigilant observers, several aspects of these proposals are a cause for concern.

MAIDEN PROPERTY VENTURE

Binacom, traditionally known for its expertise in telecommunications infrastructure, namely satellite, mobile, and fibre optic networks, is now venturing into the real estate sector, an area beyond its core competencies.

The Group plans to acquire three shop lots in Sazean Business Park for RM8.34 million and 241 hotel suites in Empire City for RM73.54 million. These represent substantial capital commitments and mark a sharp pivot from Binacom's primary business.

This strategic shift comes at a time when Binacom has just returned to profitability, reporting a net profit of RM1.92 million on revenue of RM111.91 million for the financial year ended 31 December 2024. In contrast, the Company posted a net loss of RM13.39 million for the 18-month financial period prior.

Given its telecommunications track record and the prospects arising from 5G rollout and the Jalinan Digital Negara (JENDELA) initiative, it seems untimely and strategically questionable for Binacom to divert financial and managerial resources into an unfamiliar and capital-intensive property sector.

QUESTIONABLE ACQUISITIONS

The nature of the proposed acquisitions raises further eyebrows as well. The purchase of Sazean Business Park properties for RM8.34 million involve related parties - namely individuals and entities connected to Binacom's major shareholder Dato' Eddie Ong Choo Meng. Ong is a major shareholder of Binacom via his indirect interest in the Company held through Hextar Capital Berhad. Though the purchase price aligns with the independent valuation, the declining property value trajectory casts doubt on the long-term investment merit.

Even more concerning is the RM73.54 million acquisition of 241 hotel suites in Empire City from Mammoth Empire Holding Sdn Bhd (MEHSB), which represents approximately 61% of Binacom's net assets. This suggests a disproportionately large capital outlay into a non-core yet risky asset class. To those unaware, Empire City's history is fraught with delays, litigation, and financial strain. The ambitious RM5.0 billion Empire City project was launched in 2011 by MEHSB, yet it has failed to take off after 14 years of development.

Compounding the risk, Binacom lacks operational experience nor a competitive advantage in the property or hospitality industries. While the valuation appears to support the purchase price, there is no clear exit strategy or committed operator in place, further exacerbating the risk profile of this new venture.

While the entry of the Exsim Group as a strategic partner in Empire City and the rebranding of Empire City shopping mall under Hextar World (which is owned by Hextar Healthcare Berhad or formerly known as Rubberex Corp (M) Berhad) may rejuvenate some confidence in the beleaguered development, the viability of Binacom's hospitality venture remains highly contingent on external factors beyond its control.

A HIGHLY DILUTIVE PRIVATE PLACEMENT

On top of these, Binacom plans to issue up to 128.14 million new shares (or up to 30% of its total issued shares) via a private placement with an assumed issued price of 13 sen per share to raise RM16.66 million to finance these acquisitions. The placement shares are expected to be offered at a discount of up to 20% to the prevailing market price.

This move is highly dilutive to existing shareholders and raises serious concerns about the alignment of interests between major and minority shareholders. If the proposals are truly valueaccretive, why are major shareholders not committing their capital? Besides, the use of a private placement instead of a more equitable rights issue denies minority shareholders the chance to maintain their proportional ownership.

As of 22 April 2025, Binacom was traded near a 52-week low of 14.5 sen. The counter has declined by around 25% on a year-todate basis.

VIGILANCE AND ACCOUNTABILITY

As Binacom ventures into uncharted territory with a series of highstakes corporate proposals, minority shareholders must exercise heightened vigilance and demand greater accountability.

The planned foray into new sectors, questionable acquisitions, and the highly dilutive nature of the private placement raise concerns about the alignment of boardroom decisions with long-term shareholder value.

Given these concerns, it is imperative for minority shareholders to closely monitor the execution of these proposals, question the rationale behind key decisions. The burden of scrutiny cannot rest solely on market forces. It is incumbent upon shareholdersparticularly minority stakeholders—to demand clear justifications for these decisions, ensure robust governance standards are upheld, and hold the board accountable for the outcomes of its high-stakes strategic manoeuvres.

At this critical juncture, sustained oversight will be essential to safeguard their interests. What is at stake is more than a business pivot—it is the long-term integrity of shareholder value.
