Malaysia's economy to rebound

According to Finance Minister Tengku Datuk Seri Zafrul Abdul Aziz, Malaysia's economy is expected to rebound faster once the country has successfully controlled and alleviated the spread of the Covid-19 pandemic. This expectation is based on the effective lockdown index, whereby an international consultant had predicted that Malaysia is among the three countries with the most room to control and alleviate the Covid-19 pandemic in 2021. He also quoted a news report from an international media company which ranked Malaysia as the fifth key investment and business destination among the world's developing economies for 2021, surpassing China, the Philippines, India and Indonesia. This is based on the potential for rapid economic recovery, as well as the country's stable fiscal and financial position, among others. He also cited a report by an international consulting firm which concluded that Kuala Lumpur remains attractive to the international business community, due to factors such as integrated infrastructure facilities, diversity and quality of human resource, as well as the country's readiness in adopting digital technology. While the government is planning the nation's economic journey post-Covid-19, certainly any decision must balance between existing resource management, as well as positive or multiplier impact in the short and long term. This approach will continue to be practised by the Ministry of Finance in the formulation of each policy.

Apac to lead economic recovery post Covid-19

According to Moody's Analytics chief Apac economist Steve Cochrane, the Asia-Pacific (Apac) region's economic recovery will take the lead from the rest of the world as it recovers from the Covid-19 recession. This is after much of the region would have regained all of its lost output by the end of 2021, although India and the Philippines will struggle to reach this benchmark by the end of 2022. The region has much managed to contain the spread of Covid-19 as governments continue to work in obtaining sufficient vaccine supplies. The region's manufacturing supply chains are fuelling economic rebound on demand for goods related to the pandemic recovery such as computers, mobile phones, information technology systems, pharmaceuticals, and personal protective equipment-and consumer durable goods such as autos and household appliances, as well as holiday-related consumer goods. On the other hand, policy has remained consistently supportive and should continue to be so through 2021. In addition, the expected shift in US foreign policy under the upcoming administration of President-elect Joe Biden will also benefit the region.

Telcos preparing disaster recovery plans to avoid service disruption due to floods

According to the Malaysian Communications and Multimedia Commission (MCMC), telecommunications service providers are implementing disaster recovery plans to avoid prolonged service disruption in flood-affected areas to ensure stable services. This was because there were areas that experienced service disruptions due to power outages at communication towers. Among the measures taken include placing the generator on an elevated platform, using a temporary or permanent generator, upgrading the backup battery and providing a temporary base transceiver station at the evacuation centres. People are advised to be always aware and alert to the latest developments. Save on the use of communications equipment in the event of a power outage in your area and only use it for important matters such as making emergency calls. The public is urged to contact the telecommunications companies if there are any service disruptions in their area to enable restoration works to be carried out.

Foreign fund net selling at RM24.7bil in 2020

According to MIDF Research, foreign funds' net selling on Bursa Malaysia totalled RM24.75bil in 2020, but the selling pressure was well absorbed by local retail investors. Retailers and local institutions have been net buyers in 2020. Retailers are net buyers to the tune of RM13.84bil, larger than local institutions at RM10.41bil. As for the week ended Dec 31, foreign investors were net buyers as inflow amounted to RM8.89mil. Last week was the second net inflow from foreign investors since early November. Cumulatively, for December, foreign investors were net sellers with outflow of RM726.97mil, lower than the outflow in November of about RM1.03bil. For last week, retailers were active buyers on every day of the week except on Monday. The largest net inflow was on Tuesday and smallest on Thursday, to the tune of RM104.66mil and RM44.06mil respectively. However, it was opposite for local institutions. The market saw local institutions as net sellers every day except on Thursday. Largest net selling was recorded on Wednesday at RM154.98mil and net buying was on Thursday at RM31.99mil. Foreigners turned net sellers on Tuesday and Thursday amounting to RM43.30mil and RM76.06mil respectively. The biggest net inflow was on Wednesday at RM78.88mil. In comparison with three other South East Asian markets which were tracked last week, Thailand recorded the most foreign net inflow while Indonesia and the Philippines experienced only outflow.

YEARS ANNIVERSARY

Thank you for 20
wonderful years!

Christopher Lee
CEO of ShareInvestor Group

We are celebrating our 20th anniversary in ShareInvestor, and I want to reach out and personally thank you for your unwavering support for the past two decades.

It has been truly an enriching journey for all of us here in ShareInvestor as we grew from a small local outfit with less than 10 people in 2000 to a fintech company with more than 100 staff serving thousands of investors, public listed companies, and financial institutions across Singapore, Malaysia, Thailand, Indonesia, and Australia.

From our humble beginning, we were focused on levelling the playing fields for retail investors; empowering them to make informed investment decisions through timely access to information with our market data toolsets, and through investor education seminars.

As part of our journey, we had the opportunity to be a wholly-owned subsidiary of Singapore Press Holdings (SPH) in 2008, where we embarked on an expansionary strategy and made timely investments in complementary businesses which included Waterbrooks, a public relations company, and Investing Note, a social media company which focuses on stocks and shares investments.

In 2018, the management team did a Management-Buy-Out (MBO) of the company from SPH as we believed that, with the internet economy expanding at a rapid pace across ASEAN, there were tremendous opportunities for us to scale our business. For the past two years after the MBO, we have embarked on revamping our technology infrastructure and adopting new developing tools to introduce more exciting products and services to our customers in the coming years.

I'd like to take this opportunity to thank all of you – our customers and partners – for trusting and working with us for the past 20 years and we hope to continue to serve you as we enter into our third decade.

MERRY CHRISTMAS AND HAVE A GREAT YEAR AHEAD IN 2021!
