Petronas named the most valuable ASEAN brand for 2021

Petroleum Nasional Bhd (Petronas) has retained its position as the most valuable ASEAN brand in the Brand Finance Global 500 report for 2021. The national oil company also remains in the ninth spot among the brand valuation consultancy's listing of global oil and gas (O&G) brands. Petronas' Brand Strength Index has also improved to 87 points from 86.3 in 2020. The index is judged on a brand's performance on intangible measures relative to its competitors. Brand Finance attributes Petronas' ranking to its consistent brand performance, contributing to a brand value of US$12.04 billion, despite a drop from US$15.2 billion in 2020. Brand Finance considers three key components in calculating a brand's value: the brand's strength, business, and economic outlook. All 20 O&G brands on the list have seen a drop in their brand value mostly due to business and external factors. Meanwhile, Petronas president and group chief executive officer (CEO) Tengku Muhammad Taufik has been ranked 38th in the list of 100 best global Brand Guardians 2021 and recognised among the world's top three O&G CEOs as well as the highest-ranked ASEAN CEO. According to Tengku Muhammad, the achievement is a recognition of the tremendous contributions made by all Petronas employees. Petronas will endeavour to explore new growth avenues as it navigates the challenges of the global energy transition, towards unlocking more opportunities in creating further value for all our stakeholders.

MIDF reaffirms 'positive' call on auto industry, BAUTO and MBM top picks.

According to MIDF Research, it has reaffirmed its "positive" call on the automotive industry underpinned by a strong total industry volume (TIV) recovery driven by the tax holiday extension, a low interest rate environment, a shift to private car usage from mass transport on concerns over social distancing and an underlying macro recovery. The automotive industry made a strong end to 2020 with a 26% year-on-year growth and a 22% month-over-month increase to December's TIV of 68,836 units, which nears a record monthly high. The strong December TIV was driven by year-end sales campaigns and more importantly, as consumers rushed to benefit from the tax holiday which was earlier scheduled to end on Dec 31, 2020. TIV for the year 2020 came in at 529,434 units, slightly ahead of even MIDF's aggressive FY20F of 523,000 units and the Malaysian Automotive Association's (MAA) FY20F TIV of 470,000, driven mainly by extremely positive consumer reaction towards tax holiday incentive since June 2020. Despite the strict lockdowns in March to April 2020, FY20 TIV only fell by 12% year-on-year, significantly narrower compared to the 41% year-on-year contraction seen during the first half of 2020 (1H20). Moreover, during the fourth quarter of 2020 (4Q20), non-national cars made a comeback following aggressive launches such as the new Almera (launched in November 2020), new City (launched in October 2020) as well as the all-new Hyundai Kona and Mitsubishi Xpander. While the national cars drove most of the recovery throughout June-November 2020, non-nationals staged a strong rebound in December, up by 22% year-on-year and increasing its share to 45% of TIV (relative to 2H20 average non-national market share of 37%). The research house kept its conservative FY21F TIV of 550,000 (+4% year-on-year) unchanged with potential upside than downside at this point, especially considering that second movement control order (MCO 2.0) is more accommodative to the economy, allowing a large pool of sectors to operate unlike the previous one, followed by a sustained low interest rate environment as well as the visibility of a vaccine rollout this time around. As a result of the global chip shortage situation currently, it sees rising concern on the potential impact on auto production. Recent news-flows suggest that selective players such as Proton might be looking to scale down production, but bear in mind that for Proton's Geely-based SUV models (X70 and X50), localization rate is still low at around 40%, suggesting it is still very reliant on the Chinese automotive supply chain which is hit hard by the chip shortage issue. While the impact may not be uniform across the board, it's channel checks with selective non-national players recently suggest production is still operating as per normal without any supply constraint so far and remain cautious should the impact of the chip shortage catch up with production here. MIDF's top sector picks are Bermaz Auto Bhd (BAuto) and MBM Resources Bhd. It has a "buy" call and target price of RM1.70 for BAUTO as it believes the auto company is a play into a potential brand expansion leading to structural market share growth. Having recently acquired franchise rights for the Peugeot brand, BAUTO is eyeing another mass market brand in the near future, positioned mainly to plug gaps in the lower price points in its model mix. MIDF also recommends a "buy" for MBM with a target price of RM3.90 as it believes the auto company is a "cheap proxy" to an expected strong recovery in Perodua earnings.

SC warns unlisted public companies.

The Securities Commission (SC) has cautioned unlisted public companies (UPCs) that they face a fine not exceeding RM10mil if they seek to raise funds from retail investors without a prospectus. There was an increasing number of queries and complaints pertaining to UPCs offering their shares, including preference shares, to both retail and sophisticated investors. In certain cases, the shares are marketed or offered through phone calls, followed by one-on-one meetings with agents of the UPC. The regulator warned the UPCs seeking to raise funds from the public must comply with the Capital Markets and Services Act 2007 (CMSA) and relevant guidelines, especially when the offer is made to retail investors. The SC wishes to remind UPCs that offering of shares to retail investors without a prospectus is a serious breach under the CMSA and a person found liable may be punished with a fine not exceeding RM10mil or imprisonment not exceeding 10 years, or both. UPCs have the duty to provide all relevant information to investors, including sophisticated investors, to enable them to make an informed assessment, including the merits of investing in the shares of the UPCs and the extent of the risks involved. Before investing in shares of a UPC, investors should ask for and review the contents of the registered prospectus or information memorandum (IM) to understand the nature and risks of their investment, especially how their investments will be utilised by the UPC and they should also conduct their own research and where necessary, seek professional advice. The CMSA requires a prospectus to be issued when shares of a UPC are offered to retail investors. The said prospectus will also need to be registered with the SC. UPCs are not required to issue a prospectus only when the shares are issued wholly to sophisticated investors described or set out under Schedules 6 and 7 of the CMSA. Sophisticated investors include high net worth individuals with a net asset threshold of RM3mil excluding the value of primary residence, high net-worth entities and accredited investors. While the CMSA does not mandate the issuance of an IM, UPCs that issue an IM for offering of their shares to sophisticated investors are required to deposit the said IM with the SC. UPCs are also expected to make clear in the IM that while the IM is deposited with the SC, the SC's approval is not required for the offering of the shares referred to in the IM. UPCs can refer to the prospectus guidelines for the required information that must be included in a UPC prospectus for the purpose of registration with the SC. Members of the public who have any enquiries or concerns about any person or company offering any shares in a UPC may contact the SC's Consumers and Investors Department at 03-62048999 or email aduan@seccom.com.my.

5 Companies with Net Cash Position for the Past 3 Years

Companies that are in a Net Cash position has a significant portion of cash in their balance sheet, with minimal amount of total liabilities.

The way to derive each individual company's net cash figure is being calculated by subtracting a company's total liabilities from its total cash on hand. The net cash figure is commonly used to evaluate a company's cash flows and the overall financial health of the company.

To be in a net cash position means that the company will have ready fund to tap onto any acquisitions or opportunities to grow their business.

1 Cordlife Group Limited (SGX: P8A)

For December FY2018, Cordlife's net cash position stands at S$38.6 million and has risen to S$41.7 million in FY2019. The rise in net cash position was due to the increase in Cordlife's cash and short-term investment, which was partially offset by higher debt level.

Cordlife's share price is last traded at S$0.39, with a market capitalisation of S$99.28 million.

2 Avi-Tech Electronics Limited (SGX: BKY)

Since FY2018, Avi-Tech's net cash position has been on a consistent growth, from S$32.5 million to S$36.7 million in FY2020. Despite the increase in total debt to about S$1.5 million in FY2020, Avi-Tech's strong cash flow generation was more than enough to cover the increase in debt level, as the company managed to increase its cash hoard by S$3.8 million.

Avi-Tech's share price is last traded at S$0.48, with a market capitalisation of S$82.10 million.

3 Sarine Technologies Limited (SGX: U77)

In FY2017 and FY2018, Sarine Tech does not have any long term or short term debt in their balance sheet. Coupled with the cash generation from operation, this resulted in the slight rise in net cash figure in FY2018.

However, with Sarine Tech taking on debts for its expansion, its net cash figure has declined to S$30.4 million in FY2019.

Sarine Tech's share price is last traded at S$0.455, with a market capitalisation of S$159.17 million.

The trend continues into FY2020 where the figure grew by 24.5% year-on-year to S$200 million even as the company took on some borrowing for its operations.
